

RAKU HO'OLAULE'A CAMPOUT AND EXHIBIT 2016 CONTEMPORARY GUEST ARTIST/JUROR KEN KANG TRADITIONAL JUROR HIDEKO WATANABE

Raku Ho'olaule'a is an annual community Raku ceramics workshop, firing and campout in a beautiful beach side setting at Camp Mokule'ia, followed by an exhibit.

The Raku Tradition

The ideograph "raku" freely translated means enjoyment, contentment, pleasure and happiness. Originating in 16th century Japan, the first pieces of raku ware were tea bowls. Japanese raku potters worked exclusively to produce vessels for the tea ceremony, creating objects "according to the laws of nature," hence raku evolved as it did because of the tea masters' preferences for natural things.

The Tea Ceremony

Each year Raku Ho'olaule'a is inaugurated with a traditional Japanese tea ceremony presented by the Urasenke Foundation in the Tea House of the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa, East-West Center Garden.

With a lineage going back 400 years, The Urasenke Foundation was founded in Kyoto, Japan in 1949. Presently it is a worldwide organization dedicated to "Chado, The Way of Tea" and the four Zen principles of Wa, Kei, Sei, and Jaku - Harmony, Respect, Purity and Tranquility. The foundation provides jurors and guidance in the selection of objects for exhibition in the traditional category, as well as participatory tea ceremony demonstrations at our Workshop and exhibition openings, and we are grateful for their continuing participation.

The Tea Bowl Workshop

Following the tea ceremony, Master potter Ed Higa leads a free, hands-on workshop where participants shape and carve their own tea bowls. The workshop starts with an introduction to tea ceremony implements and forms intended to explain work that will be eligible for the Traditional category in the exhibition.

The Guest Artist

Hawai'i Craftsmen has invited Ken Kang to serve as our guest artist/contemporary juror. In addition to jurying artwork submitted for exhibition in the Contemporary Raku and Keiki categories, Ken Kang will be sharing his construction techniques of traditional vessels in a Wet Clay Demonstration at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa Art Department Ceramics Lab. There will also be a Slide Lecture at the Arts at Marks Garage.

The Main Event

Raku Ho'olaule'a is focused around three days of communing, glazing and firing artwork by the beach at Camp Mokule'ia, from noon on Friday May 22, to noon on Monday, May 25. The public is invited to visit and watch the firings all weekend, and with free admittance from Hawaii craftsmen may participate in the Community Kiln on Sunday. Jurying of artwork for the annual exhibition takes place at the beach on Monday morning prior to striking camp.

The Community Kiln

The public gets to have a turn... Visitors are invited to come out to Mokule'ia and participate with the artists! Individuals may purchase and glaze a member-created and donated tea bowl, then watch while Hawai'i Craftsmen members fire it right on the spot! The Community Kiln will be held on Sunday, May 24 at noon - 4pm.

The Exhibition

Selected work from the campout will be on display at The Arts at Marks, June 2 to 27. The Raku Exhibit opening reception and award ceremony will be held June 3, 5:30 to 9pm. Included in this opening event will be a potluck dinner and Japanese Tea Ceremony demonstrations by the Urasenki Foundation. A Silent Auction runs the duration of the exhibition; Tea Bowls and Sake Cups will also be available for purchase.

RAKU HO'OLAULE'A 2016 RULES & REGULATIONS

Registration and Group Participation

Raku Ho'olaule'a is open to the public, however, firing participants and all overnight campers and guests must pay the registration fee as individuals or as part of a group. If you wish to form a group (eight or more), you will need a group leader representative and provide your own equipment and supplies. If you would like to join an already formed group or will be coming from the outer islands; please contact HC at 808-521-3282 or info@hawaiicraftsmen.org (note: an equipment rental fee of $75.00 may be required.)

- Only registered firing participants may fire and enter the juried competition.

- If a collaborative piece is to be considered for the juried exhibit, everyone who participated in making it must have paid the Raku Ho'olaule'a entry fee.

- Hawai'i Craftsmen should receive 25% for all individual sales made at the beach.

There is a $20 per person fee for families and friends who are just camping. Camp Mokulē'ia mandates a fee of $5 per person, per day for other non-registered visitors, payable at the front office upon arrival. Everyone camping and visiting MUST register!

Assigned Camping Areas

Camping space will be available Friday May 27th at 11am through Monday May 30th morning at 9am. Set up may begin on Friday May 27th at 11am. Clean up will be on Monday May 30th from 11 - 12, and we must MOVE OUT BY 1:00 p.m. Each group will be assigned a camping area that is adjacent to their assigned firing area. Size and placement of areas is based on size of group. Every effort will be made to accommodate group requests. Please keep your group within your assigned area.

Campsite Firing

Each group will be assigned a firing area. Kilns and pit fire containers must be elevated above the surface to minimize scorching the ground. Reduction barrels/cans must be elevated or placed on kiln shelving/bricks. All reduction material must be disposed of in the dumpster.

Refundable Security Deposit/Clean Up

We are all responsible for the complete clean up of the campgrounds! A $75 refundable deposit is required from each group to insure adequate beach and Campsite clean up.

Parking

Overnight parking will be available in designated parking areas only. Obtain car registration form from your group leader and display in window of each vehicle. Parking will be double and triple deep. Outside overflow parking is available on the highway adjacent the camp.

Loading and Unloading

NO vehicles will be allowed in the camping area. Unloading will be allowed from the parking lot and through a gate at the far end of the grounds. Look for signs; remember to bring carts and hand trucks for transporting gear. PLAN ACCORDINGLY!

Camping Rules

Please read and follow the Camp Terms and Conditions

- Front Gate opens at 7:00 am, closes at 8:00 pm for Registered Participants.
- Day visitors must check-in at the front office between 9am and 5pm, prior to entering site. There is a $5.00 fee for day visitors. EXCEPT FOR COMMUNITY KILN - VISITORS GET IN FREE. All visitors need to check in at Camp Mokulē'ia Office.
- No Alcoholic Beverages.

- No Loud Noise after 10:00 pm.
- No Pets Allowed (except for registered Service Animals).
- Do not build fires or cook on the grass.
- Keep fires away from trees and tents.
- No nails in trees.
- Dispose of wash (and glaze) water in sinks at rest rooms; do not dump in the sand or ocean.
- Take all trash and bulky trash items to the dumpster throughout the weekend.
- Please put your recyclables in the proper Camp Mokulē'ia bins.

Items to bring include:

- Kiln and accessories, reduction materials, cans, tongs, gloves, protective clothing and covered shoes.
- Rope and three six-foot poles to secure tanks. DO NOT bury gas tanks. Enough rope to cordon off kiln/firing area.
- Raku glazes, tool kit, shovel, plastic garbage bags, a first-aid kit and sun-screen.
- Each group should bring a Group Name banner or sign.
- All groups firing more than one kiln at a time are required to bring a "Y" connector.

Exhibition Participation Requirements

Pre-made bisque pieces made and glazed by the entrant are eligible for entry. Pieces entered for jurying must be fired by the entrant at the Raku Ho'olaule'a 2016 site. Each registered participant must complete an entry form and may enter a total of four pieces, with one of the four entries being for the traditional tea ceremony category (i.e. tea bowl, waste water container, fresh water container, tea caddy, sweets dish, vase, etc.) We are honored to have special guest juror Hideko Watanabe, to select work for this category. Contemporary works and the Keiki category will be selected by our Guest Artist, Ken Kang.
