

August 2009 E-News

Aloha.....

Hawai'i Craftsmen's Program Manager, Verena Snively, the all-volunteer Board of Directors and other numerous volunteers are to be commended for all of their efforts the past few months to continue Hawai'i Craftsmen's commitment to providing artists and the public with quality contemporary craft programs, exhibitions and events.

As you may know, funding issues have affected Hawai'i Craftsmen; my Executive Director position has been reduced to a part-time position. You may have noticed a lapse in regular E-News and quarterly Newsletters and other communications during this time. Please be assured, we are doing all that we can to continue Hawai'i Craftsmen's vital role in Hawai'i's contemporary art world.

*Please continue your support of Hawai'i Craftsmen in any way you can:
by volunteering or through donations.*

*Your donation is always 100% tax deductible and may be mailed to:

Hawai'i Craftsmen: Our National Presence

Coming Soon.....

Contemporary Hawai'i Woodworkers, a book co-authored and produced by Hawaii Craftsmen Vice President, Tiffany DeEtte Shafto, is due to be on shelves this December. The book captures the essence of the contemporary wood art movement in Hawaii, sharing the works of award-winning artists in joinery, sculpture, and woodturning. It also features the organizations that create exhibition opportunities for Hawaii's woodworkers—including Hawaii Craftsmen.

This book will be a great addition to anyone's art library nationally AND internationally. Mahalo Tiffany for continuing to promote artists and Hawai'i Craftsmen.
